Seven people will be seen in the vaudeville acts at the opera house for the balance of the week, beginning to-night. Delvates, styled "king of pyramids," performs all manner of stunts on tables and chairs 20 feet from the floor. Claude Miller & Co. of four people, in an intense dramatic production, "The Call of the Blood." Three reels of pictures are shown and changed every night.

The new program of vaudeville that comes to the Pavilion to-day will consist of three acts, all of which are highly recommended. In Niblo and Riley, the manager of the Pavilion met some old friends, these people having been with the first show Mr. Roach ever appeared in. A good visit held the boards most of the forenoon. Mr. Riley is what is known as a comedy eccentric whirlwind dancer. His dancing is the fastest and funniest of anything ever seen at the Pavilion. While all of the pictures are good, one in particular deserves special mention. We refer to the one entitled, "The Maid of Niagara." This picture is a real spellbinder. One scene shows an Indian maid going over Niagara falls in a canoe. The view of the falls and the rapids is the best we have ever seen in motion pictures.

The fire department was called out at 8 o'clock last night in response to a still alarm for a slight blaze in the house on Foster street owned by Timothy Holland and occupied by D. Gohin. The fire started from crossed electric wires, but was extinguished before the arrival of the firemen. The damage was trivial.

Wednesday arrivals at the hotel were as follows: W. J. Kelly, Springfield, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Chayer, W. E. Wilson, A. J. Daige, B. T. Franklin, Boston; J. H. Jordan, Rutland; C. H. Kimball, St. Johnsbury; J. A. Bond, Burlington; H. S. Richardson, Albany, N. Y.; C. C. Milet, Virginia Milet, Walter Wiesner, New York City; J. B. George, Hardwick; Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Butler, New York City; E. Girard, Quebec.

Linemen this afternoon were busy about the city in repairing broken wires caused by the heavy wind which has prevailed since last night. People at dinner this noon were startled by a long, continuous blowing of the fire whistle. It soon developed, however, that the false alarm was caused by the fire alarm wires and those of the Vermont Power company becoming crossed on North Main street. The trouble could not be remedied at once, so it was necessary to disconnect the whistle for a time.

A company of young friends, numbering thirty, called at the home of Mrs. McKenzie, Bolster place, last night and very pleasantly surprised Alex. E. Milne on the eve of his departure to his former home in Scotland. During the evening, songs, stories, recitations and instrumental music were contributed by members of the company, and James McDonald, who acted as chairman, in behalf of the company, presented Mr. Milne a handsome pipe, and Miss Easter and Master Ross Milne, children of Mr. Milne, were presented suitable gifts. Mr. Milne in a few well-chosen words thanked the company. Refreshments were served and the evening passed with dancing and other amusements. A vote of thanks was given Mrs. McKenzie and the committee in charge.

GODDARD IS AMUSED

That Newport High Should Claim Basketball Championship.

In reply to the statement of the Newport high school basketball team that they do not consider Goddard seminary "eligible to dispute for the championship under the Schoolmasters' rules of Vermont," the local school, through Manager Scott, issued a statement today that Goddard has been playing under the Vermont Schoolmasters' rules all the season and that there is no player on the squad but what is eligible under those rules.

As to Newport's right to claim that school basketball championship, there is a large-sized doubt among the Goddard boys. In fact, they rate Newport, considerably down in the list, declaring that the up-staters have played few of the really strong teams of the state. They also refer to the fact that Newport was defeated on its own floor by People's academy by the score of 27 to 19, while Goddard defeated People's twice, the latter time most decisively. Newport has not played Goddard, Spaulding, Burlington high, Vermont academy and several other high school teams and barely defeated Montpelier high school.

Taken all in all, the claim of Newport high school to the basketball championship reminds Goddard, for all the world, like Newport's aspiration to football honors last fall, the up-staters coming to Barre with a "crackjack" aggregation and being beaten by Goddard, 68 to 0.

Burlington Also Doubts It. That the Burlington high school team is also inclined to ridicule Newport's claim is shown by the following statement from Manager Hardy H. Gordon of the Burlington Free Press to-day, in the Burlington Free Press to-day.

"I saw by the columns of your paper this morning that Burlington high school is again the recipient of a challenge for the state championship at basketball and I beg to say in return that if Newport high school had defeated People's academy, which they did not on Newport's floor, they might have a claim coming. Burlington not only defeated People's academy here in Burlington, but defeated them in Morrisville. Burlington did not refuse to play Newport, but could not afford to go. If Newport will pay Burlington's expenses to that place, we will convince her of what claim she has to the championship of the state."

TOO LATE TO BE CLASSIFIED.
